PRAISE POINTS

- This world is not our home. Jesus’ return will usher us into a new Kingdom. The things that we fear will not be there. There is hope!
- Jesus is wonderful. He is both powerful and tender, fearful and gentle. He is magnetised to the broken in these stories, and he is also magnetised to you.
- Always remember that no power is greater than the Lord. None! He is over all. He is truly our King.

APPLICATION QUESTIONS

1. Do you view the fear of God as something that is negative or positive? Try to explain your answer from the Bible.
2. Look again at the stories in Mark 4 and 5 and recount the hope that is ours as we anticipate the return and rule of Jesus.
3. What have you learned about yourself, the world, and the Lord from the section that we have considered together? Also, how might you use these stories to encourage someone in the church family this week?
